

The new face of British Railways

January 1965 marks the start of an entirely new look for British Railways. All parts of the system will be given a recognizable house style.

The main elements are a new symbol, new livery and new letter styles.

British Rail